Overview of the Journal's Purpose and Significance

Historical Context and Mission

The Wexford Historical Society was founded with the aim of promoting the study and preservation of the history and heritage of County Wexford. Its journal series, including No 14, functions as a principal medium for disseminating research findings, archival discoveries, and scholarly debates. The publication seeks to:

- Document the local history and genealogies of Wexford residents.
- Highlight archaeological discoveries and preservation efforts.
- Encourage community engagement with historical narratives.
- Provide a platform for academic and amateur historians to share insights.

Importance within Irish Historical Literature

While Ireland boasts a wealth of historical publications, regional journals like the Wexford Historical Society's series play a unique role by focusing deeply on local histories that might be overlooked in national narratives. No 14, in particular, is notable for its comprehensive approach, blending scholarly rigor with accessible storytelling. It also contributes to the preservation of intangible cultural heritage, such as oral histories and local traditions, which are vital for a holistic understanding of the region's past.

Structure and Content of Journal No 14

Editorial Focus and Sections

The journal is typically organized into several sections to cater to diverse interests. No 14 2 maintains this tradition, offering a well-rounded presentation of Wexford's historical landscape. The main sections include:
